WORD OF the CANDIDATE

I am applying as the World Scout Youth Advisor in the World Scout Committee. I am ready to provide lot of knowledge, positive energy, creativity, working with young people and their needs, knowledge on governance, Youth Engagement and a strong strategic approach to the World. This interest was confirmed after I joined the World Organization of the Scout Movement (WOSM) represented by the Oman Scouts and Guides. I have been a member of the Scout Movement for more than 15 years, committed to the values of Scouting and a leader in different scouting experiences and in the academe, too. I strongly believe that Scouting is the lead organization to the non-formal education where we feel the importance of this aspect every time we work with scout group, This system will be a source of learning in many countries around the world especially those countries that suffer from lack of access to formal education. I am strongly motivated to support young people, empower leaders. self-development, I am inspired to lead the implementation of the vision of 2023 and work towards the strategic priorities. I am very willing to share not only my various scouting experiences to reach all levels within the movement, understand the situation on an international level but also my professional experience as an IT specialist, and my trainings on project management and on strategic development, capacity building and mentoring.

Working as a team, I know we can achieve even more on responding to the needs of NSOs/NSAs through creative approaches, promoting WOSM Services, better cooperation and sharing our knowledge with those in need. Our joint efforts towards the principles of transparency and good governance must be strengthened by the effective communication channels developing new and maintaining old partnerships and relationships with all Youth organizations . I believe that a trusting attitude and a patient attitude go hand in hand and I am confident that we and most NSOs/NSAs share the same vision. I am confident that my experience in Scouting paired with my dedication and commitment allows me to do my responsibilities within your expectations and our shared goals.

Opportunities

- Knowing about previous experiences
- Availability of references and means for learning.
- Free courses and workshops
- Incubators to support innovators
- Presenting a workshop on innovation and reshaping the economy
- Having experience and qualifications in aspects of technology

Threats

- Awareness of young people
- How to take advantage of opportunities
- Financial funding
- Weak partnerships
- Uninformed decisions
- Time Management
- The difference of cultures and environments in the different scouting regions

Young Scouts have special and unique skills that they gain through participating in scouting, which is characterized by its unique programs, and this feature of Youth Scouting enhances the opportunities for young people to innovate and develop entrepreneurship to be one of the reasons for reshaping the economy. They may need a small push to start and so we must strengthen and develop awareness in this field.

strengths

- The multiplicity of scientific sources and experimental research
- Easy access to the experiences of others around the world
- Evolution of tests to provide solutions immediately after obtaining the result
- Scout interest in mental health issues
- Implementation of scout programs concerned mental health issues and creating global policy to home safe from home

weaknesses

- Psychology is still developing, and its features are emerging
- The Availability of consultants and psychiatrists with deep experience and long-term experience
- The global trend towards economic construction and away from psychological construction
- The scarcity of community awareness resources on psychotherapy

Opportunities

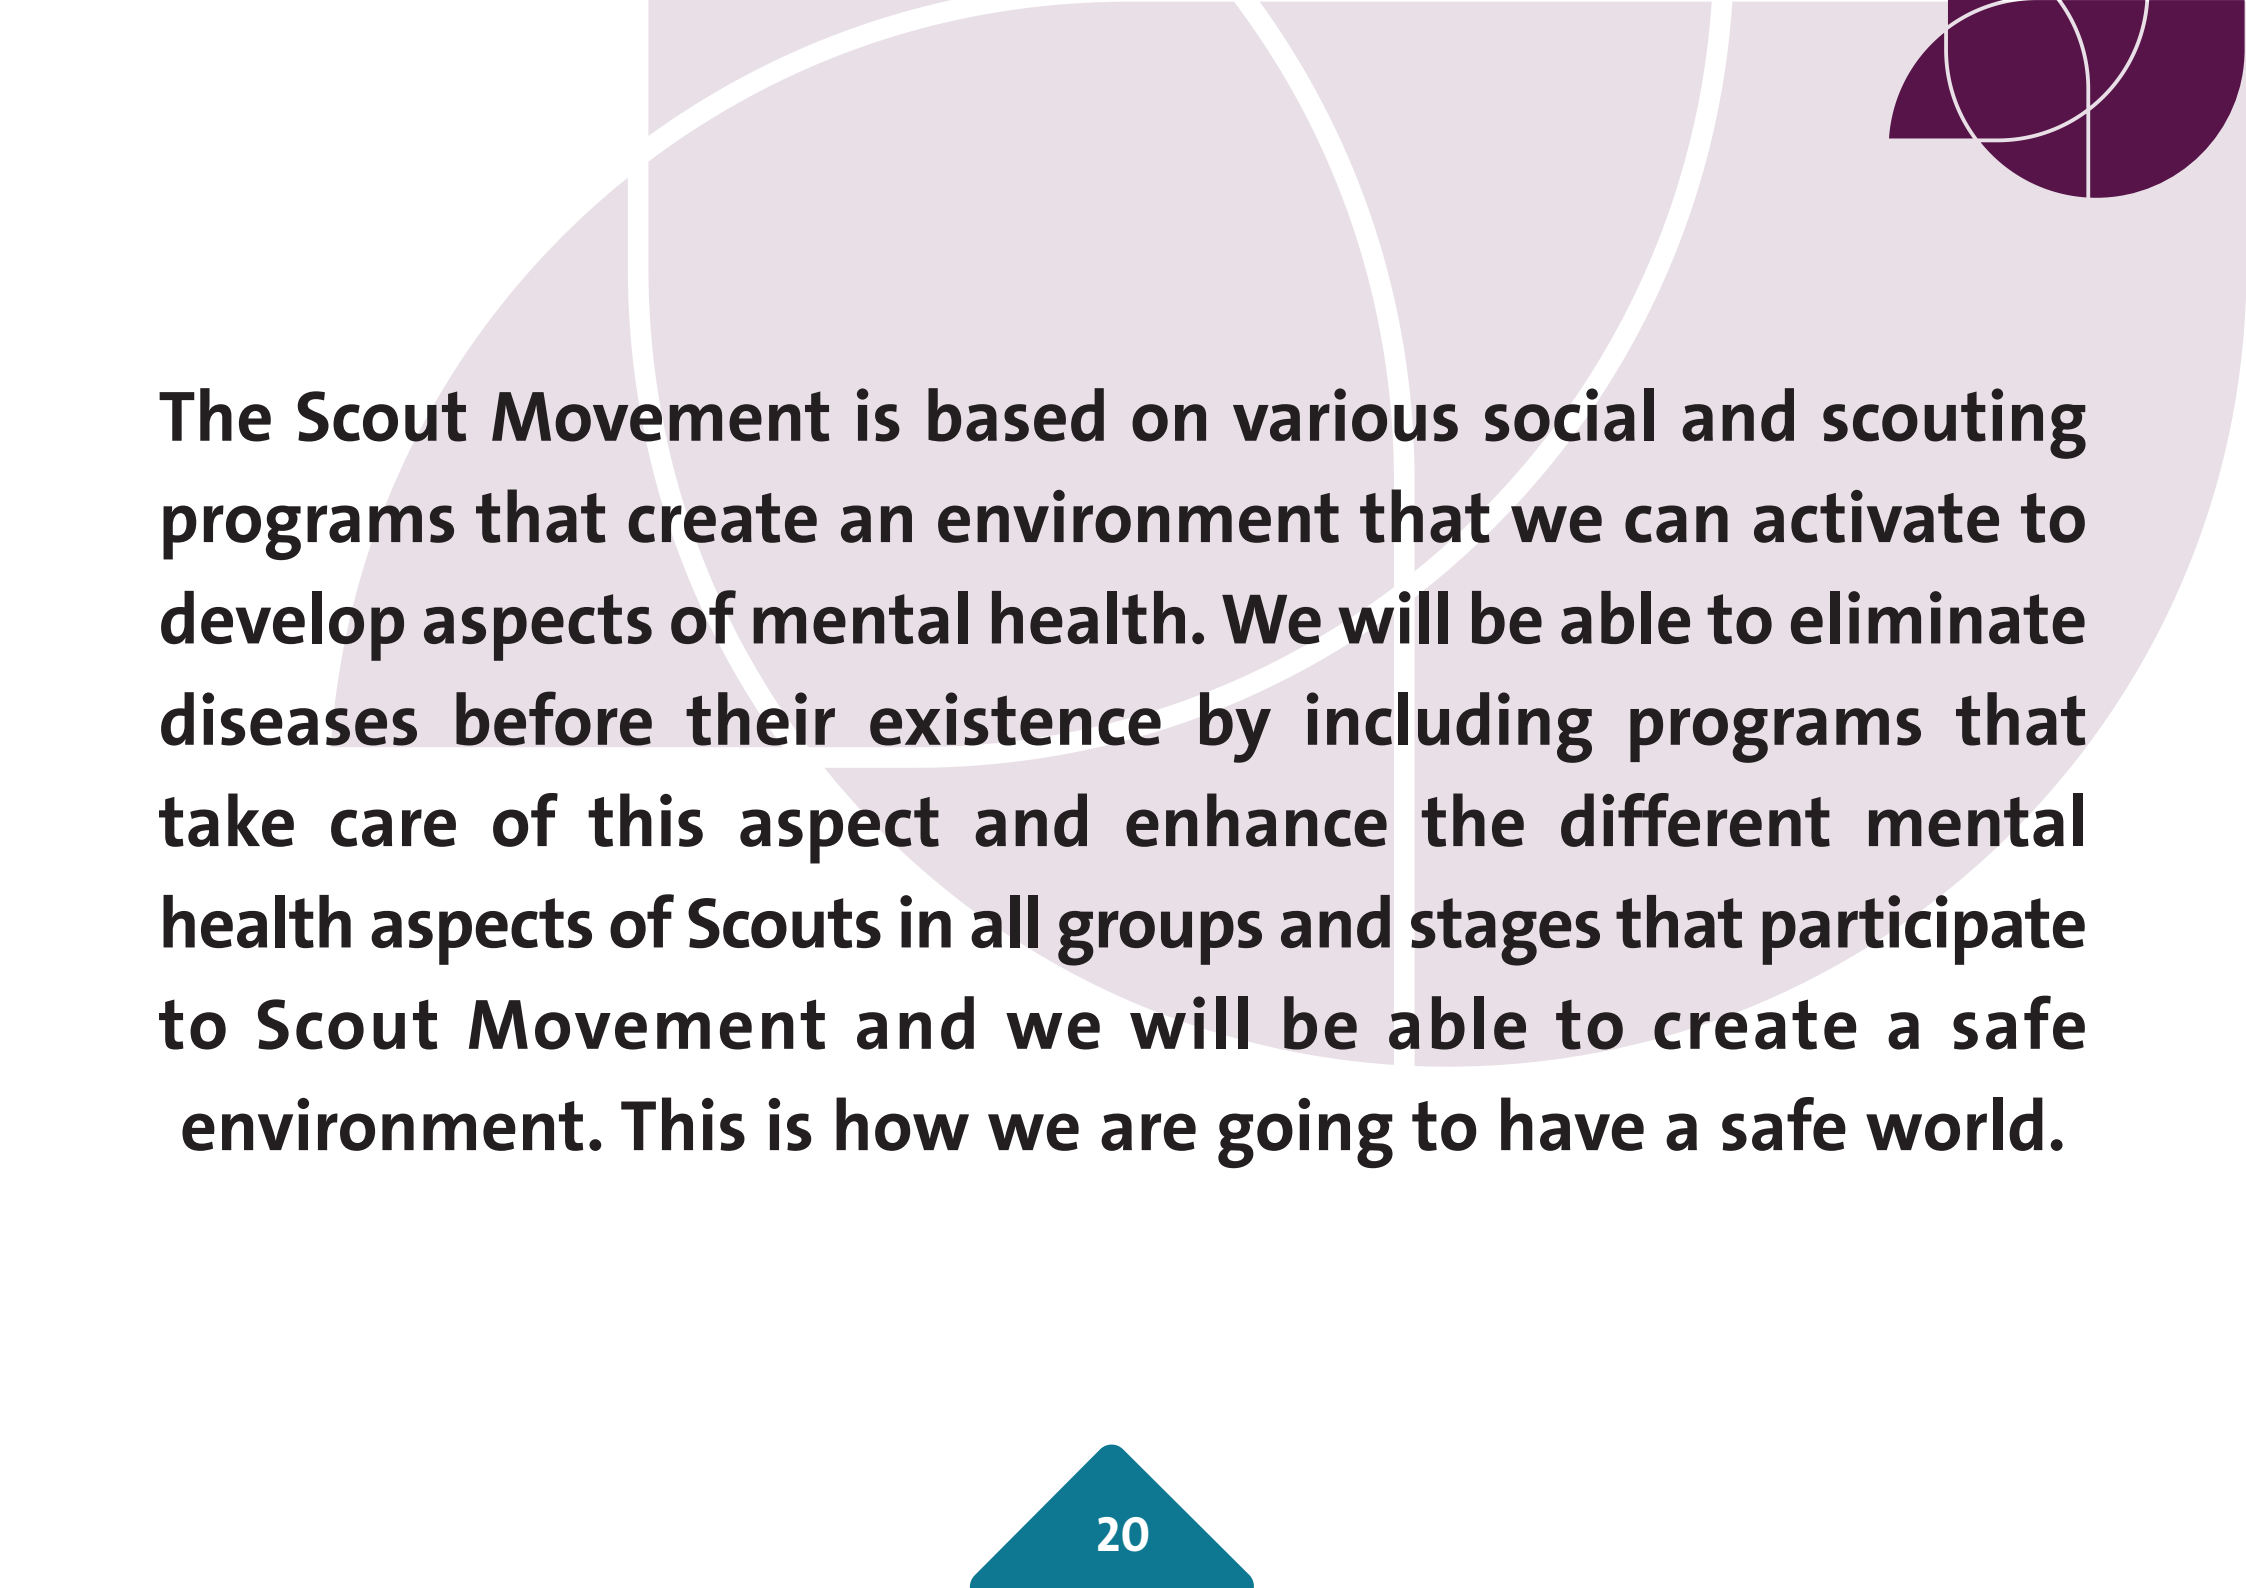

- Ease of communication with specialists
- Availability of accredited medical tests from trusted organizations to assess mental health.
- A common youth tendency to find opportunities for spiritual nourishment and psychotherapy
- Exploiting young people's desire for adventure and participating in scouting activities
- Take advantage of the safe from harm program to enhance the concept of mental health

Threats

- Lack of awareness
- Societal denial of psychological problems
- Poor assessment of psychological problems
- Societal lack of acceptance
- Social shyness
- Cultural variation between generations

The Scout Movement is based on various social and scouting programs that create an environment that we can activate to develop aspects of mental health. We will be able to eliminate diseases before their existence by including programs that take care of this aspect and enhance the different mental health aspects of Scouts in all groups and stages that participate to Scout Movement and we will be able to create a safe environment. This is how we are going to have a safe world.

strengths

- The activities of the United Nations Organization in Gender Equality
- WSOM Program He for She
- Increase the representation of girls in the World Scout Organization
- The development of feminist movements between males and females
- Work and study with girls in various activities and institutions
- The laws and legislation in the Sultanate have created sufficient awareness and safe implementation

weaknesses

- Lack of girls' initiatives to participate
- Not to exploit the different skills of girls

Opportunities

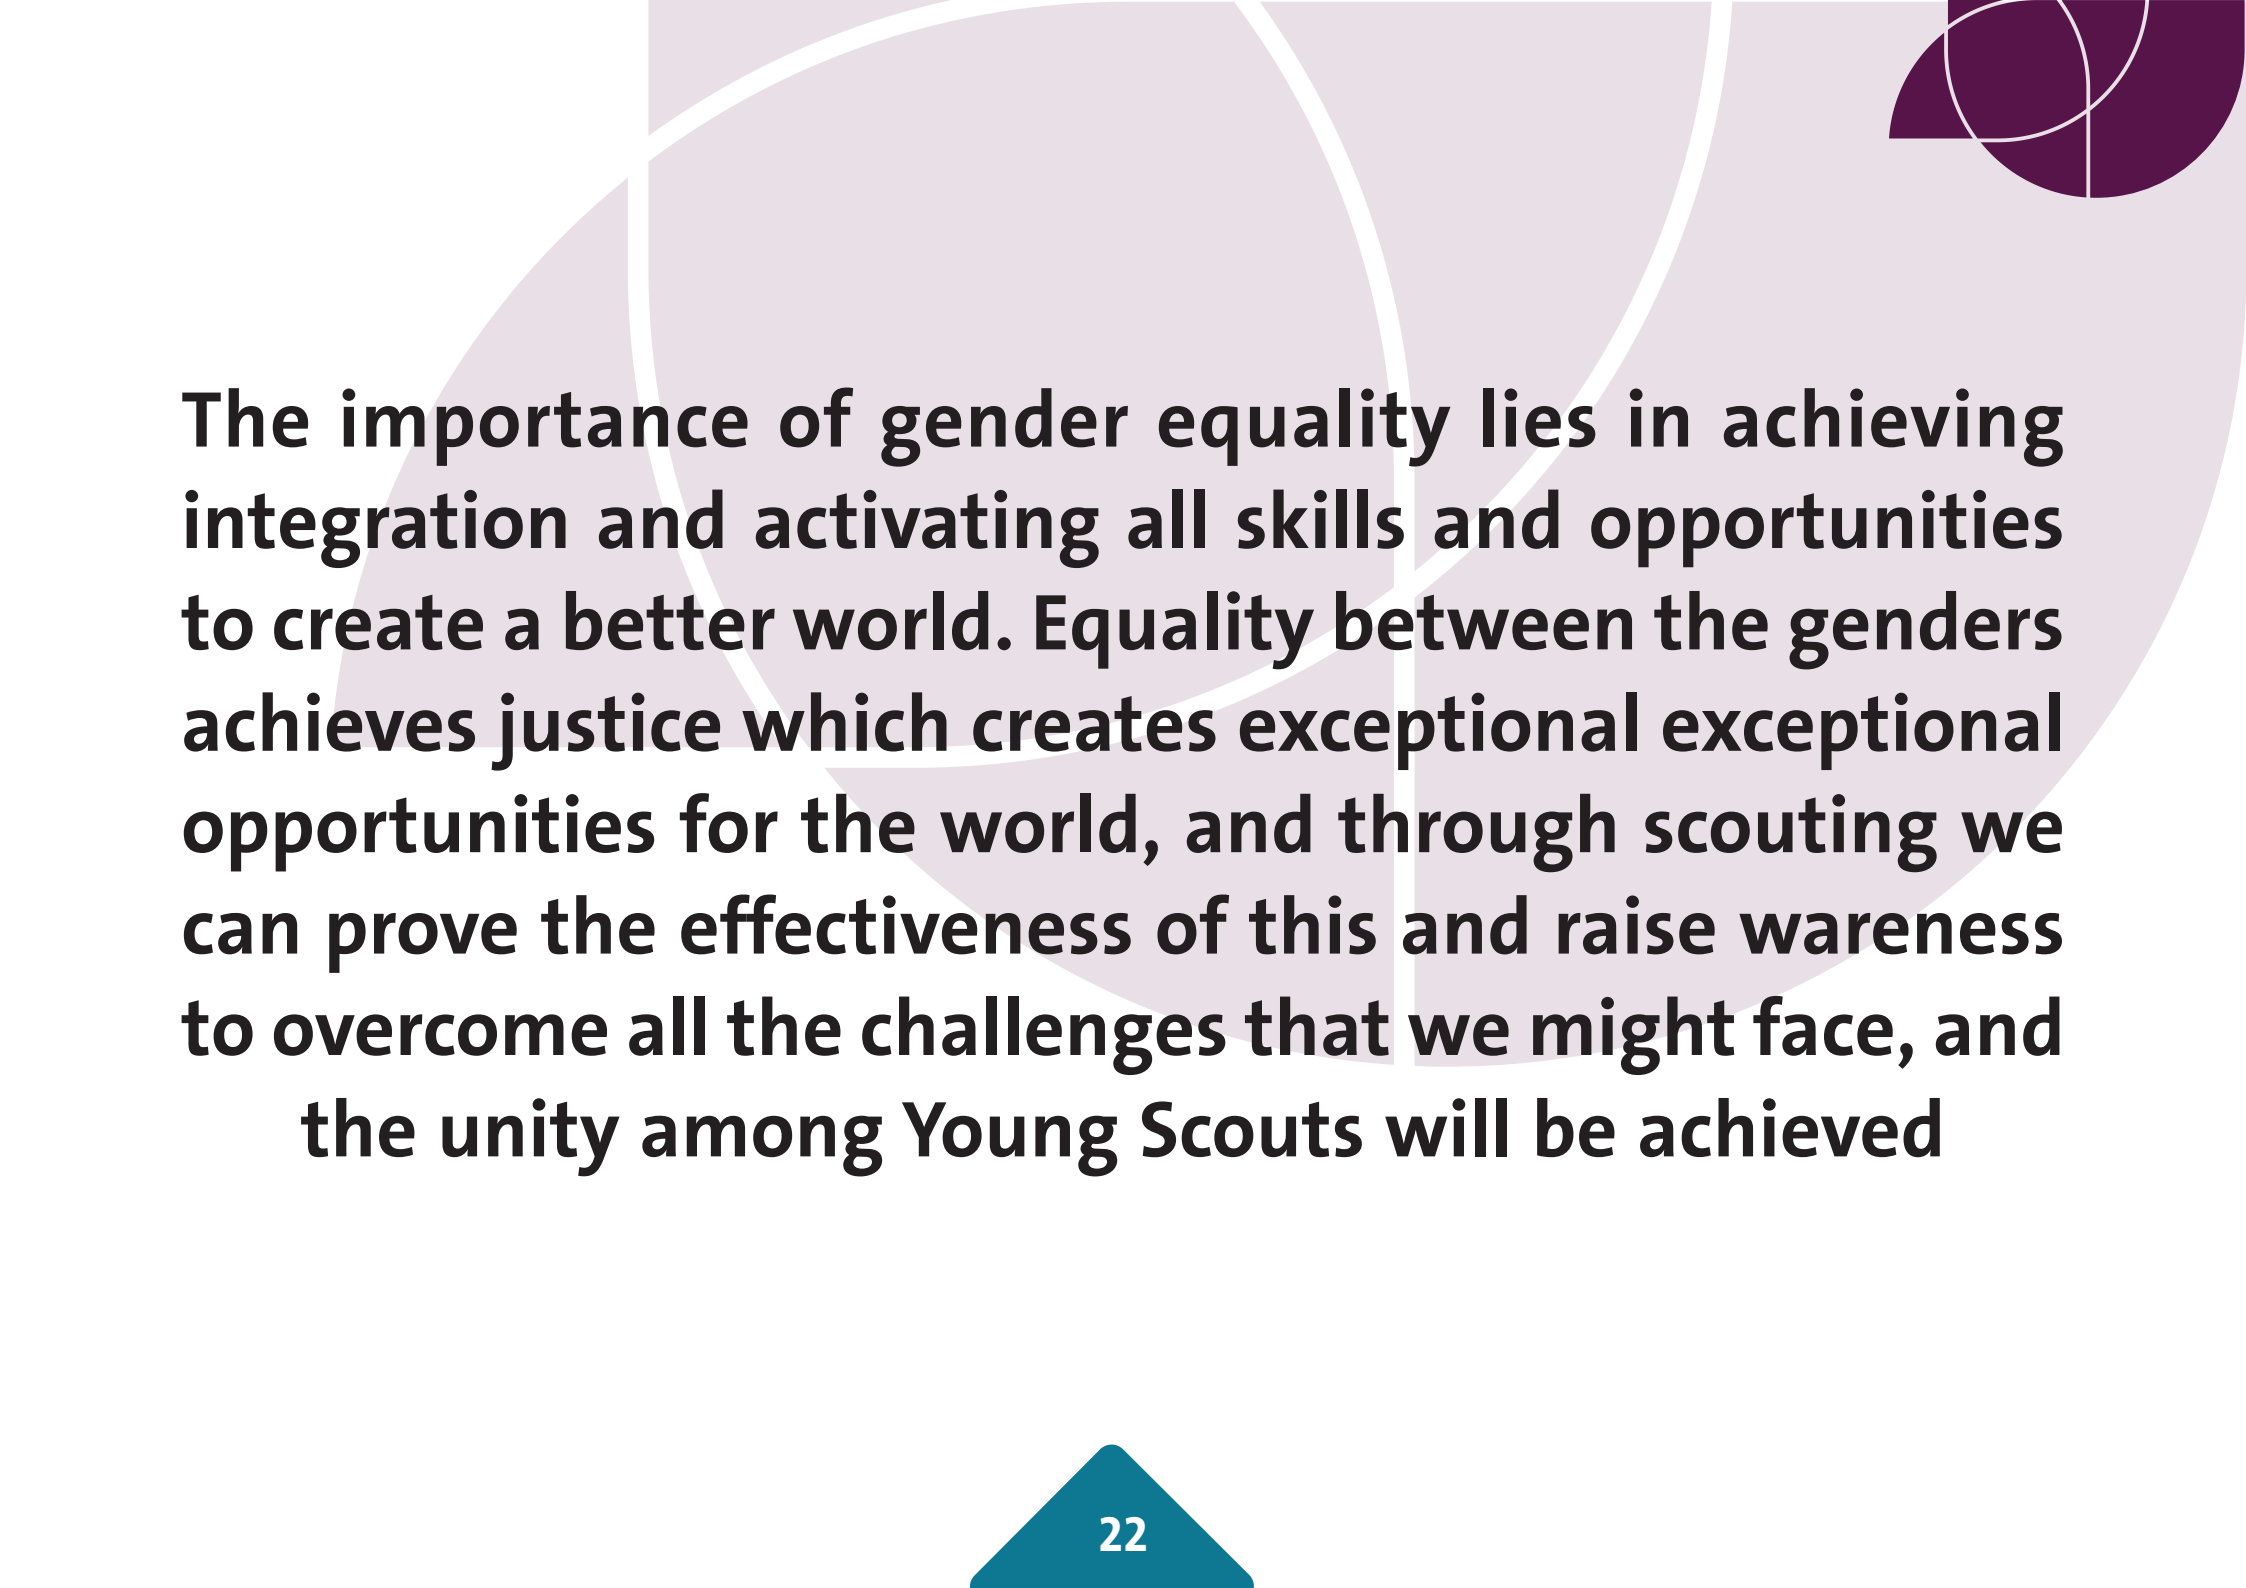

- Greater ability to empower girls in Scouting Rejoins
- Existence of platforms that support women's voice virtually without the need to appear
- Increasing awareness of girls' entitlement to education
- Creating activities and programs that support both gender with the same quality and achievements

Threats

- bullying
- Consistency in customs and traditions that are not supported by logic and scientific facts
- Lack of awareness among societies

The importance of gender equality lies in achieving integration and activating all skills and opportunities to create a better world. Equality between the genders achieves justice which creates exceptional opportunities for the world, and through scouting we can prove the effectiveness of this and raise awareness to overcome all the challenges that we might face, and the unity among Young Scouts will be achieved

- The existence of alternatives (renewable energy)
- The global trend towards preserving the environment
- The development of research contributing to finding solutions to environmental problems.
- Youth enthusiasm and readiness to work in emergency conditions
- Scouts promise and law
- Practicing the implementation in the volunteering committees to work in various disasters
- Working in programs specialized in environmental aspects with scouting teams

weaknesses

- Lack of awareness among societies about dealing with various natural disasters
- Inadequacy of specialized training in this field

Opportunities

- Provides sustainable solutions that help improve our practices towards the planet
- Provides protocols for scouting practices in scouting activities
- Positive Community acceptance of the damages of climate change
- Existence of scouting programs that support the environmental aspects of climate change

Threats

- Countries that are not committed to international standards
- Common practices
- The lack of vegetation cover on the globe
- Circumstances and sudden disasters

It is important to emphasize and focus on the importance of preserving the global environment and to raise awareness and inspire young people to take actions to preserve what we own through right practices that will guarantee us effective results and through right environmental practices in the scouting activities that we carry out to succeed.

The importance of the strategic priorities of Vision 2023 in scouting work

Youth Involvement

Engaging youth in every scout activity and fields that show scout movement in modern touch and especially aligned with the youth developing plans in different fields that serve the youth programs and informal learning. My contribution in this priority is categorized by working hard to attract and enable a larger youth energy to accomplish things together and global citizens will be able to contribute in their communities to make a better world using strategies that suit the youth today.

Sample:

- 01 Maintain required skills to overcome the economic and social struggles with motivating self-learning and training
- 02 Support involving youth in the future developmental plans and the different life aspects to deal with local issues that affect societies and youth
- 03 Train youths in Education, Health, Economy and Culture

Governance is the backbone to achieve all of the priorities because successful governance raises the scouting work and makes it easier to develop our goals and it contributes in Membership Development and unity of scouts

In the last 6 years I gained a very strong experience in Governance as listed below:

Entrepreneurship and management of an educational institution

Establishing and leading the Scout teams to build a system for this group based on the scouting curriculum followed by the World Scout Organization

Establishing several commercial projects and contributing to institutional work in which modern management tools and mechanisms were used, such as modern planning systems, results standards, performance indicators, overall quality and project management

I participated in many committees for scout work at the national and regional level, and I was involved in making of many decisions of work committees in the Omani Scouts

All the many and different participations I have encountered with fulfilled my needs and built my deep experience which made me capable to deal with modern techniques to launch active programs.

Diversity and differentiation are powerful tools that lead to creation of ideas and projects. Differentiation in the programs and scout activities will attract different age groups such as people with special needs who have the full right to participate in the different scout activities as soon as there is a safe zone for Boy Scouts and guides to fulfill their needs .

Coming from the country of peace and safety - the Sultanate of Oman, the land that spreads peace within its community and defeat all types of racisms and replace it with religion tolerance and equal living rights strengthen my motivation as a candidate to deal with the challenges. I will work hard to share all my experience and culture to come up with the best of the programs and policies.

Youth is considered as the backbone of the communities. If we will be able to gather supportive and productive youth groups then we are going towards making a better world. Scouting should be that environment which provides The main source of positive influence to those youths who in turn will reflect back to our communities positively.

Through our scout initiations that we started earlier to provide help and support like the quinch program that targeted workers under sunny weather, we were able to distribute around 4000 packages in three days annually for four years. Such programs helped me to be in touch with people and understand the community needs and their decision making.

Communications and External Relations

Media channels are vital in each scout program which leads to success and partnerships. Such media has a major role to make our programs successful by granting the communication between us and the targeted people.

As I have worked with department of foreign relationships in the National Scout Association, it offered me a great experience to enroll in the Arab as chairperson for youth Adviser Committee through which I worked with my team to make the right changes towards better world.

Conclusion

I consider the decision to nominate myself for the youth scout advisors committee as one of the most important decisions I have ever made in my life in the pursuit of making and supporting positive changes to the entire world. We are looking forward to continuing what the previous committee has achieved in advance to develop the scout movement. Overall, we are one hand to support an efficient youth Scout system that develops and improves the world.

We are fully aware that we are very close to achieving the organization's vision 2023, so I say it clear to all members of this movement, "We are Too close."
